

Finding your Shared Lives carer

Your key worker will look at

- Your age
- Your health
- Your culture
- Your support needs
- Your interests
- Your plans and hopes for the future
- What kind of Shared Lives family you would like to spend time with

This will help your key worker find the right carer for you

Your key worker will give you information about your possible carer

If you like them you will get to meet them in person

Your key worker will arrange this meeting

Meeting a Shared Lives carer is done at the carer's home

Or you can meet the carer in a more comfortable place like a park or cafe

These are called visits

Visits help you decide if you want that person to be your carer

You can have lots of visits with the carer before you decide

You can stop visiting a carer if you want

If your Key worker cannot find the right carer for you

- Your social worker will be told
- Your key worker will keep looking
